NY Agriculture in the Classroom

The New York State Agricultural Outreach and Education staff would like to invite you to attend the 2007 New York Agriculture in the Classroom

Elementary Teachers Conference from Wednesday, June 20th-Thursday, June 21st, 2007 at the swegatchie Educational Center in Croghan, New York. This year's conference will be packed with exciting experiential, hands-on educational workshops that address the needs of Elementary Educators. The conference will feature interdisciplinary workshops that address Literacy, Math, Plant and Animal Sciences curricula that can be incorporated into classroom instruction through hands-on learning activities and meet NYS Learning Standards. Each participant in attendance will receive over $80.00 in valuable educational resources and classroom materials! This high-quality professional development opportunity meets the criteria for the No Child Left Behind Act section 9101(34) on professional development. By attending this conference each teacher will receive 10 hours of professional development credits. We are certain that this conference has something for everyone. You will find complete conference and registration information at the following web site:

http://www.cerp.cornell.edu/aitc/2007_Conference.asp

If you have any questions regarding the conference please do not hesitate to contact me: Perry Dewey, Director of Agriculture Outreach and Education, Cornell University, 106 Kennedy Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853. Office: 607-255-7381 Cell: 716-753-0224 Fax: 607-255-7905 ptd7@cornell.edu

Opportunities for Retirees

The Roberson Museum and Science Center is looking for Museum Educators. They offer flexible morning and early afternoon hours, an opportunity for community service, the pride of working for a prestigious cultural institution, intensive and supportive training and a modest hourly stipend. Submit your résumé, cover letter and the names of two references to Katherine Bouman, Director of Education, Roberson Museum and Science Center, 30 Front Street, Binghamton, NY 13905. Applications for the 2007-2008 school year must be received by September 15. Website: www.roberson.org Phone: 607-772-0660

Managing Today's Classroom

The Southern Tier School/Community Network proudly presents its sixth annual conference: "Managing Today's Classroom, a Practical Approach for Working Successfully with Difficult, Non-Compliant and At-Risk Students" presented by Spencer Henry, Tuesday, June 26, 2007, 8:00 am to 3:00 pm, at VEW School, Bath, NY. Henry has trained thousands of teachers, principals, supervisors, parents and service personnel on developing responsible, self-disciplined children. Plan on a great lunch, door prizes and the Crystal Springs Book Fair. The registration for Educators is $25. Registration closes on June 18. Contact TCTC at teachercenter13845@yahoo.com for a brochure.

Private Yankee Doodle

The 225th anniversary of the American Revolution is upon us. Are you ready to teach it in order to meet the Standards? Tired of drill and kill and talk and chalk? Join in on the 24 hour hands-on experience based on Plumb Martin's Journal, Private Yankee Doodle. Participants will dress in period clothing, eat the foods of the time, drill, discuss politics, listen to music, examine artifacts, fire a musket and live overnight in a Revolutionary War Camp at Newtown Battlefield near Elmira, May 19-20, 2007. Sponsored by the Schuyler-Chemung-Tioga/Corning Teacher Center. Contact TCTC at teachercenter13845@yahoo.com for a brochure.

Arts for All: A Vision for Inclusion

Wednesday, June 6, 2007

At SUNY Oneonta, Hunt Union Ballroom

The New York State Alliance for Arts Education, in partnership with the Upper Catskill Community Council of the Arts, Springbrook and The Arc Otsego, presents a day-long exploration of how opportunities for creative expression in the arts can support people of all ages with special needs. Teachers, direct support providers, leaders and staff from community agencies and interest groups, teaching artists and parents will all benefit from this informative and hands-on conference that emphasizes the universality of arts for all.

Sample workshops include:

- Understanding Disabilities: Things You Wanted to Know About Developmental Disabilities But Were Afraid to Ask
- Differentiated Instruction: Who doesn't learn in a different way?
- Art is Universal: I Have No Talent, I can't do this!

The day will include these and other one-hour workshops in music, dance, theater and visual arts that provide hands-on examples of how you can use the arts to support people of all ages who have special needs find creative outlets in school and their daily life.

Look for more details, including registration information soon.

E-mail Lainy Snyder at lainy@nysaae.org to reserve your spot at the conference!
